CRYOBANKS INTERNATIONAL FEATURED IN DAYTONA BEACH NEWS JOURNAL ARTICLE

Altamonte Springs, FL - March 20, 2007 – In an article entitled “Umbilical Cord Cells Offer Hope,” the Sunday, March 18th edition of the Daytona Beach News Journal (http://www.news-journalonline.com/pdf/fl_dbnj0318.pdf) discusses the option to donate or store umbilical cord blood. New parents are faced with a barrage of information regarding their choices; however, the decision on what to do can be confusing considering everything else surrounding the arrival of a newborn child.

In the article, it was noted that Cryobanks International is the only facility where expectant parents can donate their child’s cord blood from anywhere in the continental United States year round. The donated units are placed on international registries, including the National Marrow Donor Program, where anyone in need of a potential life saving transplant can access them.

About Cryobanks:

Cryobanks International is a corporation located in Altamonte Springs, FL. The Company is a leader in the collection, processing, and banking of stem cells derived from the umbilical cord immediately after birth. The units of cord blood (CB) are processed and stored by the company for use in unrelated transplants (where the donor is a histocompatible match, but is anonymous and unrelated to the recipient) and for personal storage and use. In recent years, cord blood transplants (CBTs) have become widely recognized as a safe, effective, and in many ways preferable, alternative to bone marrow transplant (BMT). There is tremendous potential need for CBTs in the United States and worldwide. Cryobanks International is well poised to help meet that need, equipped with an inventory of over 9,000 cord blood units. For more information about Cryobanks International call 1-800-869-8608 or visit the website at www.cryo-intl.com.
